

Fox Timer – Install & Use Guide

=====

Recommended browser: Google Chrome

WHAT IT IS

Fox Timer is a small Chrome extension that helps keep ATI pages from timing out while you work.

WHICH DOWNLOAD?

- Mac / most people: fox-timer-extension.zip
- Windows: fox-timer-windows.zip

Both open into a folder named FoxTimer (so Load unpacked is easy).

INSTALL ON WINDOWS

1. Download fox-timer-windows.zip
2. Right-click the ZIP → Extract All...
3. Choose a place you'll keep (Documents is fine)
4. You should now have a folder named FoxTimer
5. Open Google Chrome
6. In the address bar type: chrome://extensions
7. Turn Developer mode ON (top-right)
8. Click Load unpacked
9. Select the FoxTimer folder (it contains manifest.json)

Do not delete the FoxTimer folder after installing.

INSTALL ON MAC

1. Download fox-timer-extension.zip
2. Double-click to unzip (you get a FoxTimer folder)
3. Move FoxTimer somewhere permanent (Documents is fine)
4. Open Google Chrome → chrome://extensions
5. Turn Developer mode ON
6. Click Load unpacked
7. Select the FoxTimer folder

HOW TO USE

1. Open your ATI page in Chrome.
2. Click the Fox Timer icon.
3. Choose what you are working on.
4. Enter how many minutes you want.
5. Press Play.

Keep the ATI window focused while it runs.

PROFILES

ATI Lesson	Keeps the session awake and can move pages forward
Video Case	Keeps the session awake; closes when time is up
Assessment	You answer; when time is up it finishes for you

Popup Case For Real Life popups (Beta) – check the window at the end

IF SOMETHING GOES WRONG

You can remove it anytime:

1. Go to `chrome://extensions`
2. Find Fox Timer / ITA Lecture Assist Timer
3. Click Remove

No account. No subscription. It just uninstalls.

TIPS

- Use Google Chrome for the best experience
- Try a short timer first (2–5 minutes)
- Advanced options can be ignored
